Vice-Chancellor's Message

Dear Student,

السادة

Welcome to Allama Iqbal Open University, the first Distance Education University in South Asia, that caters to the educational needs of 1.3 million students to enable them to study at their own place, at their own pace and at their own convenience. The University goes to the doorsteps of the students, irrespective of the distance and location of students. One can become a student of this university at any age as we consider education a life-long and continuous process. The University has a vast menu of educational programs at different levels, starting from basic literacy programs to the PhD programs. The courses are regularly revised in order to keep them contemporary, relevant, and internationally compatible. Self explanatory course material helps the students to comprehend the course concepts without physical presence of the teacher. The self-assessment activities, included in the books, help ensure the acquisition of learning outcomes. This university offers maximum number of specializations at post-graduate level through four faculties - Faculty of Arabic and Islamic Studies, Faculty of Education, Faculty of Sciences, and Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities. The faculty members at the university and a huge network of tutors, resource persons, specialists and experts make sure that the courses being offered in these programs enable the students to become independent learners and critical thinkers. Post-graduate level studies invite you to critically examine what has already been done in your field of interest and then research to offer innovations.

I welcome you to the postgraduate studies at AIOU and wish you a challenging yet successful journey ahead.

Vice Chancellor, AIOU

1. ALLAMA IQBAL OPEN UNIVERSITY

Allama Iqbal Open University, a mega university was established in 1974 under an Act of Parliament. The main campus of the university is situated in sector H-8, Islamabad. It was the second open university of the world and the first of its kind in Asia and Africa. The aim of establishing AIOU was to provide affordable and accessible education through distance learning at the door-steps to those people who could not continue their education journey through formal system of education. The University (AIOU) operates on semester system and admits students in Autumn and Spring semesters. Under graduate admissions are offered in both the semesters where-as post graduates are offered once a year. The enrolled students are given course books specially prepared by the university on self instructional principles. However at post graduate level reprints of foreign books alongwith allied material and university prepared study guides help students to polish their skills.

At present, the AIOU is offering programs from matric to PhD level in diverse disciplines comprised of four faculties. The university has established study centres across the country where distance education students are provided necessary guidance by their respective tutors. Moreover, the university has established full-time study centres wherein the students of MBA (IT), MBA (Banking and Finance), BS (CS), MSc/BS Chemistry, MSc/BS Microbiology etc. are being provided instruction, guidance and counselling through face-to-face education. AIOU is also offering four years under-graduate degrees.

Apart from curricular and extra-curricular activities during the academic year, the AIOU and its regional centres actively participate in the co-curricular activities by arranging educational and literary seminars, workshops and conferences, attended not only by the students and faculties of the university but also by the renowned dignitaries and scholars. For the science students and the research scholars, a science complex has been built where they use the latest equipment of international standard for experiments and research. To meet the present day challenges, internet facility is also available in the student hostel and the Central Library where computers have been provided to enable students to access latest information available through open source databases.

FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES

First established in 1981 with five departments, the Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities has, over the years, flourished to become, by far, the largest Faculty of the University. It, today, consists of 14 departments offering masters programs in major areas of Social Sciences and Humanities like, Business Administration, Economics, Mass Communication, Sociology, Urdu, Library & Information Sciences, History, Pakistan Studies and Teaching of English as a foreign Language (TEFL). Additionally, efforts are afoot to plan and launch post-graduate programmes in Pakistani Languages and Law. The Commonwealth-collaborated master's programs in the areas of Business and Public Administration, which are specially tailored for the modern day busy executives, were launched in Spring 2002 semester.

In tune with the government's policy of promoting and strengthening a culture of higher education and research in the country, the AIOU's Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities has shown a lot of dynamism over the past few years. It has launched MPhil/PhD programmes in Iqbaliat, Urdu and Mass Communication and History while preparations are being made to launch MPhil Business Administration, Applied Linguistics.

The Faculty of Social Sciences & Humanities also offers several bachelors' level programmes in such professional areas like Bachelors in Library & Information Sciences (BLIS), BS-Business Administration, BS-Commerce and Mass communication. Tens of thousands of students comprising all demographic groups and, from all over the country, enroll, each year, in these bachelor's level programmes.

The Faculty has expanded vitally and its programmes have gained a high popularity as is clear from rapidly rising trend of enrolment during the past decade. During the period under report, the Faculty accorded high priority towards quality improvements and to modify its programmes in accordance with the current challenges of 21st century.

The Faculty proposed to launch Post-Graduate programmes in the disciplines of Political Science and International Relations, Psychology, Public Administration and Social Work.

Masters in Television Production

Introduction:

Mass Communication is a growing phenomenon with greater public interest. The introduction of high tech has revolutionized the field of mass communication. Media have great influence on viewers' daily lives. The proliferation of television channels have transformed the social landscape of the society and have added to the accessibility of information at large which helped in enhancing awareness amongst the masses on important social and political issues globally.

In Pakistan, the situation is not different; there is a rapid growth of media channels. The liberal media policy for the last five to ten years has turned the media industry into mushroom growth of private television in the country. Currently, skilled manpower is the main requirement for the growing media industry in Pakistan. The growth and development of this robust industry largely depends on the capacity to produce trained professionals.

In this scenario, there is a serious need to have media based educational training at a university level to tailor with the market needs and equip students with requisite academic expertise and professional skills of the television industry.

Objectives of the Program

The main objectives of the program are:

1. to provide students with an advanced knowledge of, and critical awareness regarding, concepts and theoretical approaches in the study of television production.
2. to develop an understanding of the history, structures and current practices of the television industry, including the primary genres, and the critical skills to present analysis and evaluation in written and spoken forms.

3. to enable students to explore and reflect on the practical implications of working in television broadcasting
4. to build an understanding of appropriate methodologies for further research in television.

Learning outcomes:

The program will be taught with the help of qualified faculties and practitioners from the media industry with the intention of providing students with an education that equips them with the appropriate knowledge and skills required of TV industry. The degree has considerable technical support in the form of experts from TV industry for programs production, editing, writing and presentation; and conceptual explanation in the form of intensive, scholastic and thematic lectures with the help of experienced and qualified faculty.

The learning outcomes of the students will be:

1. In a position to handle any type of visual communication including news, documentaries, dramas, music videos, interviews, talk shows, and educational programs.
2. Equipped with the requisite skills of all major aspects of video production such as direction, set design, camera work and editing.
3. Able to develop skills, judgment and confidence in each production related phases.
4. Able to critically evaluate video production.

Target Audience

1. Fresh graduate students, who are willing to adopt electronic media as profession e.g. as program director/writer/cameraman or in any other capacity.
2. The persons, who are already working in this field and want to improve their skills, can also take benefits from this course.

Industrial Need

There are about 70 working television channels and the about same numbers are in process. Furthermore, there are a large number of production houses actively producing program for the running channels in the country. It is presumed that more than 5000 persons are attached with this profession, but they are not in position to meet the day to day targets, which are also increasing day by day. Catering to the need of this demand, it is the foremost priority of TV channels to increase the number of human resource. But on the other hand, there is shortage of properly educated persons in this field. As there are no proper institutions in the Islamabad/Rawalpindi and the PTV Academy is busy in training its own staff. Therefore, university like AIOU can lead in building professional manpower in the field of TV Broadcasting. Keeping in view the above mentioned facts, we are confident to have large number of students for TV broadcasting program.

Significance of the program

The significance of training in television has increased manifolds throughout the world and also in Pakistan. Other universities in the country have already taken the initiative to offer the Master's program in television broadcasting. They got their Radio and TV studios built with the help of HEC. Allama Iqbal Open University is lucky enough to already have state of the art TV studios. The recently constructed multipurpose building for Radio/TV studios in AIOU with the help of HEC has also one of its specific objectives to impart practical training to Mass Communication students. Recognizing the serious dearth of skilled manpower in the television industry in Pakistan, the Department of Mass Communication intends to offer a full-fledged face to face Master's Program in Television Broadcasting. The Program will equip students with requisite academic knowledge and professional expertise.

Faculty

Highly qualified faculty, experienced professionals and Guest speakers with particular expertise in the field of TV profession will be the feature of this degree program. DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCES

Introduction

Postgraduate library education in Pakistan started in 1956 by the University of Karachi. In the mid eighties there were six library science departments all over the country. But they were not producing the required number of trained professional graduates as per demand. Moreover, the rate of technological change created by television, computer and other mass media was so stunning that many librarians had been unable to assess clearly its far-reaching effects on the sphere of their services and operation. Thus keeping in view the demand of professional staff and mission of AIOU, the Department of Library and Information Sciences was established in 1985 within the Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities to cope with this shortage and change. It contributes to meeting the professional requirements of the existing libraries and training skilled manpower scattered all over the country in accordance with the emerging need and trend. FACULTY OF SCIENCES

Faculty of Sciences forms an important and integral part of the university. Since its establishment in 1982 with five teaching departments, it has undergone major development changes. It now comprises nine teaching and research departments which are offering courses at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels to more than ten thousands students. The Faculty operates under the basic guidelines of the University Act and on “Education for All as Convenient” basis so that maximum students get benefit from its academic programs and educational facilities. This principle has necessitated some structural changes in the non-formal mode, particularly at the postgraduate level, in the offering of theory courses and practical lab work. This conceptual adjustment has been quite successful and many of its in-service students are benefiting from the postgraduate study programs. Improvement in qualifications for a better life is a right of everyone and the Faculty’s programs meet this challenge by offering opportunities to all. In particular a significant number of beneficiaries are those who cannot afford education in formal institutions due to a variety of reasons.

Realizing the importance of science education and growing needs of the Faculty of Sciences, the University has completed a building, the Research Complex, at a cost of Rs 35 million. The Research Complex now accommodates departments of Agricultural Sciences, Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Sciences, Home & Health Sciences, Mathematics, Statistics and Physics. These departments are running a variety of postgraduate technical, scientific and professional programs successfully. The Research Complex also has a Computer Lab with Internet and On-line Library Facility for literature survey, Seminar Room, Lecture Hall and Library. In addition, there are many labs for practical work, teaching and research, and instrumentation labs for analysis. The University is developing these labs through its own resources. The Faculty of Sciences is fortunate to have Prof. Dr. Shahid Siddiqui as the University’s Vice-chancellor, who has given personal attention to the development of the Faculty of Sciences by providing generous amount of funds and valuable guidance.

Two Model labs have been developed in the Research Complex with the assistance of the Higher Education Commission to meet the training needs of science teachers. This development is significant for training of teachers since under the new educational policy four-year BS program has started in undergraduate educational institutions.

More than fifty highly qualified full-time faculty members are on the roll of the Faculty of Sciences. Their role in the planning, designing and development of courses to meet student’s needs is vital. Faculty members also engage in imparting and supervising of instructions so that high standards are maintained. In addition highly qualified and experienced professors are also engaged on contractual basis or as part time instructors for postgraduate study programs. The Faculty is also offering academic positions under the tenure-track system to attract the best minds in scientific and technological fields.

Research is an integral part of the postgraduate study programs leading to MSc, MPhil and PhD degrees in Agricultural Sciences, Chemistry, Computer Sciences, Home and Health Sciences, Physics, Mathematics and Statistics. Rules and regulations governing the postgraduate study programs are those approved by the Higher Education Commission (HEC).

The Faculty has launched BS program in Chemistry and Microbiology from semester Spring 2009. The four-year BS program is structured according to the recent policies of the Higher Education Commission for the improvement of the standard of education so as to bring it at par with the international standards.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURAL SCIENCES (DAS)

Introduction:

The Department of Agricultural Sciences (DAS) is making earnest efforts aiming at supplementing, supporting and re-enforcing extension services and offering agriculture related programs at different levels.

Agriculture progress in most developing countries has mainly involved an increase in the production of staple crops, the introduction of industrial crops and development of livestock production.

At present, higher education in agriculture is imparted by four formal agricultural universities in Pakistan, which are not catering in-service personnel. AIOU conducted a survey to get an idea about the higher education in Agricultural Extension, Livestock Management, Forestry Extension & Rural Development and received a positive response from candidates who could not improve their qualification from formal Agricultural Universities for one or other reason and are now working in different governmental departments and NGOs.

Programs:

The DAS offers the following programs /courses at different level.

1. PhD Agricultural Extension
2. MSc (Hons) Livestock Management
3. MSc (Hons) Agricultural Extension
4. MSc (Hons) Rural Development
5. MSc Forestry Extension

Besides Postgraduate programs the department also offers Higher Secondary School Certificate (HSSC), Secondary School Certificate (SSC) and Short Term Courses.

MSc Forestry Extension

a) Introduction:

Forestry extension is an important vehicle for expansion of forest resources in the country, and a tool for forest resources conservation and development. Planning forestry extension is important for a successful forestry development program in the country in an efficient, timely and cost-effective way.

The MSc Forestry extension program offered by Department of Agricultural Sciences looks into issues of resource degradation, impact of decreasing resources on rural communities, bio-diversity, global climate, silviculture systems, timber harvesting methodology and technology. It is being recognized by the foresters and other professionals involved in the forestry and environment sectors. At present not a single institution in the country is offering Forestry Extension program at postgraduate level. Allama Iqbal Open University, Islamabad is therefore, the pioneer in this regard to offer this program.

b) Objectives:-

The general objectives of the MSc Forestry Extension Program are:

- * To assist learners to develop and use improved forestry and agricultural technology.
- * To develop non-formal methods of adult education in forestry practices.
- * To introduce behavioral changes of the target group to blend tree growing activities along with other farming activities.
- * To establish linkages between research group and users.

c) Eligibility:-

Candidates possessing BSc or MSc Forestry degree with at least second division or BSc (Hons) Agriculture or MSc (Hons) Agriculture with at least 02nd division from national or international recognized institutions or BSc or MSc in Botany with at least 02nd division with three years field experience in Forestry are eligible for admission.

Note:-Eligible candidates should send the application forms to Chairperson, Department Agricultural Sciences, Allama Iqbal Open University, Islamabad.

Selection will be based on merit that will be determined by the departmental admission committee as per AIOU postgraduate admission rules. Rules and Regulations changed from time to time by Authorities of the university will be applicable for both new & old students necessary. The students will have to abide by all such rules and regulations framed and changed from time to time.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

The Department of Biology was established in 1998 with a mission to serve those who could not continue their formal education in various disciplines of Biological Sciences due to economic or job constraints and the production of well-trained manpower to serve various sectors of the country like education and research for the attainment of the goal of self-sufficiency.

According to its vision the Department of Biology and Environmental Sciences is striving hard to uplift the teaching standards and provide a congenial environment for research in the field of Biology and Environment. The Department always seeks to introduce more disciplines at graduate and postgraduate levels as per demand of the society, so as to keep its graduates well informed with the recent advances in Biological Sciences. This will help to produce well-trained manpower meant to serve science both at national and international levels.

Currently the Department is offering MSc and BS Microbiology and Environmental Sciences Programs. The 4 years BS Program in Microbiology has been launched from the semester Spring 2009 and from Spring 2015 the Department is also offering MSc Program in Microbiology. From Spring 2016 the department is also offering BS Environmental Sciences program. In addition to that, Department is offering some courses from basic to postgraduate levels for main pool of AIOU's general programs.

The Department of Biology and Environmental Sciences has collaboration with members of other Universities of Pakistan and Post Graduate institutions for its Biological Science courses/ programs. One multidisciplinary laboratory in block No. 4 for FSc students was established in 1999 and two labs in Science Block were established for students of BS Microbiology during 2008 to cater for their Practical/Research needs. There is also a lab in the Science Block for BS Environmental Sciences program.

The Department of Biology and Environmental Sciences is planning to launch MSc program in Botany in the near future. Keeping in view of the intended program expansion, the upgradation of the Departmental Labs is also underway to cater for practical and research needs of the above mentioned programs.

1. MSc in Microbiology (2 years)

Introduction

Presently there is a revolution in the scientific knowledge and this can be called as "Scientific Revolution". Among the scientific disciplines of biological sciences, Microbiology is one of the most important fields, particularly in Pakistan where it is contributing in a wide spectrum of areas including Medicine, Dairy, Poultry, Agriculture and Industry.

Although, the subject of Microbiology has been introduced since long, but the demand from on-job personnel has never been fulfilled in the past. Due to rapid increase in the country's population and based on a great demand from the in-service employees working in public and private institutions, a BS program in the subject of Microbiology has already been introduced. Now, to cater the need of graduates in relevant disciplines, an MSc program is being proposed. This program is designed with an aim to

- Fulfill the gap of trained manpower in the discipline of Microbiology.

2. MSc Environmental Science (2 years)

Introduction

Environmental conservation, alleviation of poverty and sustainable development are high on the agenda of global concerns (UN conferences: Stockholm 1972, Rio de Janeiro, 1992, New York, 1997 and Johannesburg, 2002). In the context of Pakistan, sustainable development demands justice in the use of resources by the present generation keeping in view the needs of the future generations. Unsustainable management of natural resources hampers the development of mankind and contributes to the unequal distribution of economic welfare. Pollution, depletion of resources and disintegration of ecological functions are of global, regional and local concerns. To prevent continued environmental degradation and the decline of human society, interactions between the mankind and the environment have to be harmonized. This is achievable through an integrated, collective approach encompassing natural science, socio-economic and political factors with technological, economic and social interventions. Environmental science is systematic study of the world around us and our proper place in it. This emerging science is interdisciplinary in nature, integrating natural sciences, social sciences and humanities in a holistic study of the world around us. In contrast to more theoretical disciplines, environmental science is mission oriented. It seeks new, valid and contextual knowledge, skills and attitudes and their impartial, fair and balanced application to the contemporary world.

In pursuit of the best national interest and to align with the international needs and standards, the Government of Pakistan developed the National Conservation Strategy (NCS) in 1992 for environmental education. It is worth mentioning that while developing the NCS the GoP has emphasized the significant role of AIOU in disseminating environmental awareness and education in Pakistan. Considering the enormous demand in the teaching institutions as well as the governmental and non-governmental sectors, the experts produced in the field of environment are extremely low. The minimum requirement is of about 13,000 environmental experts to fill the void in the county, whereas, the public and private institutions are presently producing annually 300 experts only, keeping in view the dearth of qualified environmental experts and to produce quality graduates for emerging need in Pakistan in Environmental Science.

Scope of the Program

This program will enable the students to address the challenges of maintaining environmental integrity for sustainable development in relation to human development. It aims at producing dynamic young graduates in the field of Environmental Science by developing strong skill, academic foundation, communication abilities and professionalism enabling them to compete in both the governmental and non-governmental sectors.

Aim

The program aims at developing human resources for sustainable development through appropriate education and training.

Objectives

On accomplishing the course, the students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate comprehensive understanding of Environmental Science as an interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary subject
2. Achieve awareness about the past, current and expected future situation of environmental considerations in pursuit of sustainable development.

3. Understand the relationship between economic growth and environment and its ramifications.
4. Encourage and develop critical thinking among students in dealing with the real world environmental challenges preferably of local origin.
5. Acquire skills, knowledge and competencies to mitigate environmental problems and make pathways to sustainable development.

3. MSc Botany (2 years)Introduction

Historically, all living things were classified as either animals or plants and botany covered the study of all organisms not considered to be animals.

The study of plants is vital because they underpin almost all animal life on Earth by generating a large proportion of the oxygen and food that allow humans and other organisms to exist. Plants are one of the major groups of organisms that carry out photosynthesis, a process that absorbs carbon dioxide, a greenhouse gas that is a small but important variable that influences global climate. As a by-product of photosynthesis, they release oxygen into the atmosphere, a gas that is required by nearly all living things to carry out cellular respiration. Additionally, they are influential in the global carbon and water cycles and plant roots bind and stabilize soils, preventing soil erosion. Plants are crucial to the future of human society as they provide food, oxygen, medicine, and products for people, as well as creating and preserving soil.

Scope of the Program

This program has an interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary scope enabling students to understand the significance and concepts of Botany. It aims at producing dynamic young graduates in the field of Botany by developing strong skill, academic foundation, and professionalism enabling them to compete in governmental and non-governmental sectors.

Botany covers a wide range of scientific disciplines including the study of plant structure, growth, reproduction, metabolism, development, diseases, chemical properties, evolutionary relationships and plant taxonomy

Graduates MSc in Botany can progress to a wide range of careers. They can work in national and international organization in either public or private sectors as Teachers, Biodiversity Researchers, Environmental Scientists, Nature Reserve Managers, Research Scientists, Wildlife Management Advisors, Project Officers, Ecological Consultants and Conservation Officers, Quality Control Officers, Salesperson etc.

Aim

The program aims at developing human resources in the field Botany through appropriate education and research.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Introduction:

Department of Chemistry is a major department of the Faculty of Science. It was established in 1998 to offer postgraduate programs in Chemistry. In the beginning only MSc program was started, which was later extended to include MPhil and PhD programs. These programs have attracted teachers, employees of research organizations, industry and fresh graduates who found an opportunity to improve their qualifications. The faculty of the department comprises of one Professor, one Associate Professor, three Assistant Professors and two Lecturers. In addition the department also uses services of experienced professors as visiting faculty.

The department is situated in Research Complex on the main campus where it occupies the ground floor and a portion of the lower floor. With the expansion of lab facilities, the department has extended its academic activities by launching the BS program from Spring, 2009. BS program is visualized in the new scheme of higher education as a fundamental step in improving the standard of graduate and postgraduate studies.

The study programs in chemistry have been developed by the Faculty according to the guidelines provided by the Higher Education Commission (HEC). Necessary changes have been effected to suit our students, but without deviating fundamentally from the principles set by the HEC. The Committee of Courses of the department comprising distinguished professors and scientists of the country thoroughly screened the proposed syllabi.

Chemistry is an experimental science. Students learn basic techniques in the labs. Therefore, it is essential to provide best lab facilities to students of various levels. The chemistry department takes pride in offering the most modern lab facilities in the country to its students in all branches of chemistry. Its research labs are equipped with CHNS Analyzer, Thermal Analyzer, UV-Visible, Fluorescence and FTIR Spectrophotometer, GC-MS, Flash Column Chromatography and HPLC units, Atomic Absorption Spectrometer, and Electrochemical System. Teaching labs are well equipped with routine apparatus and basic instruments. These lab facilities make us one of the leading teaching and research departments of the country.

The department believes in the “Opportunity of Education to All”. Therefore, it has modeled its academic programs to suit in-service teachers, employees of research organizations, industry and students who could not afford formal education for some reason. The department firmly believes in the promotion of chemistry as a science and in maintaining the highest standards.

Objectives:

- To promote chemistry as a science and to provide opportunity to those who could not educate themselves in formal system of education for one reason or another.
- To provide opportunities of professional growth to all those chemistry graduates who are working as technical staff in research organizations.
- To update the knowledge of in-service chemistry teachers.

MSc Chemistry

a) Introduction:

The MSc program in chemistry was launched in spring 2003 by the department. It was an outcome of the realization that there are many groups of students who wish to improve their qualifications, but facilities are not available to them in the country. Among them are in-service teachers, industrial workers, employees of research organizations and many of those fresh graduates who could not get admission in national universities or who took up jobs to serve their families. Thus it is an important human resource development program of national importance, which contributes to development of job skill.

The duration of the MSc program is two years. An academic year consists of two semesters termed as spring and autumn semesters. Admissions are offered in the spring semester. Each year the department admits 25 students through a process based on previous academic record, test and interview. Classes are held in the evening and lab courses are covered in workshops. The department follows chemistry curricula as recommended by the HEC.

To date twelve batches of MSc students have passed out. Successful students are serving in research organizations, colleges and industry. Some students have also been selected by the HEC for scholarship to pursue higher studies leading to PhD.

b) Objectives:

The MSc program in chemistry is designed for those who cannot benefit from formal education. It fulfils and meets several objectives:

- i. To provide advance training to those who are working in national institutions (schools, colleges, research organizations, industry).
- ii. To contribute to national effort in human resource development through its unique program.
- iii. To provide postgraduate training facilities in chemistry to graduates who were deprived from admission in other national universities.

c) Eligibility:

A person holding BSc or BS Ed degree (at least 2nd division with 45% marks) with Chemistry as one of the major subject is eligible to apply for admission, however merit will be determined by conducting written test and interview (The students who will pass the test will be called for interview).

d) Scheme of Studies:

At present this program is being offered in Islamabad region only. Later on it will be opened for the entire country wherever the appropriate tutorial support and laboratories will be available.

The MSc program is of two years duration, split into four semesters. In the first two semesters the core courses will be taught. The specialized courses will be dealt in the third and fourth semesters. Now, the Department is offering specialization in Organic, Inorganic/Analytical and Physical Chemistry.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

Introduction:

Excellence in Research Undergraduate, Postgraduate Education and Training

The Department of Physics was established in March 1998. We are proud to be one of the largest and most prestigious physics departments in the Pakistan with an outstanding reputation for excellence in research, undergraduate and post graduate education. The Department offers undergraduate degree programs, Master level programs and Doctoral programs. We have vibrant research programs that cover broad spectrum of fundamental and applied Physics. The Department of Physics is offering these programs in collaboration with other institutions actively foster development of new research fields. We have recently established the training programs for engineers, researchers, scientists and faculty members of public and private universities of industrial partners. We are committed for providing a positive environment that encourages everyone to explore this potential.

Due to the flexibility and advantage of the distance learning system, AIOU has retained the best of the professionals already teaching at postgraduate level in different teaching institutions in the country. There is a minimum of 45 hours of face to face teaching for each three credit hour course. The students spend 70 to 75 hours in the laboratories for each two credit hour laboratory course.

The courses are designed and developed by well-known experts in the field of Physics. The latest available teaching material is written/compiled in the form of textbooks, to facilitate the students. Every effort has been made to make these programs skill oriented and thus job oriented. The degree awarded by AIOU in this discipline is accredited and at par with the other universities.

Aims and Objectives:

1. To promote Physics and to provide opportunity to those who could not educate themselves in formal system of education for one reason or another.
2. To meet the acute shortage of highly qualified manpower in the field of Physics by producing skilled teachers and research scientists.
3. To introduce new research areas in Physics.

MSc Physics

a) Introduction:

After the establishment of the Department, the first program launched by this Department, in spring 1999, was MSc Physics. This is a two years program comprising four semesters. The program was launched keeping in view the fact that many science graduates are forced to start a job after doing BSc due to financial constraints. For such graduates, this program provides a second opportunity to study. It is for those who could not continue education in formal system along with their jobs. At present the MSc program is being offered at the AIOU main campus Islamabad. The teaching faculty is highly qualified and experienced. Laboratories are an essential component for teaching of Physics. For this purpose, well equipped laboratory for General Physics, Nuclear Physics, Microwaves, digital and Computer Hardware Electronics, with latest equipment have been set up.

b) Objectives:

The aim of this program is to provide highly competent scientists and academicians with critical approach, up-to-date knowledge, and skills to carry out research, capable of imparting knowledge and research skills to the next generation.

MSc Physics program has been particularly designed for the following:

1. Science graduates who are unable to pursue their students in Physics in the conventional system of education.
2. Graduate teachers who want to improve their qualification.
3. Science graduates working in different laboratories want to improve their qualification.

c) Eligibility:

A candidate possessing 2nd division BSc/BSEd degree with Physics & Mathematics combination is eligible to apply for admission. Admissions will be made strictly on merit and depending on the number of the seats available. Test and Interview will be conducted in the Department for selection of students. Only those students will be called for interview who pass departmental test.

1. Sustainable Environmental Design

MSc Sustainable Environmental Design (Minimum 2 years)

Introduction:

The emergence of environmental movement has brought forward the interconnection between ecological conditions and built environment. The failure of many buildings on account of performance, functionality and environmental quality (for example poor thermal comfort, heavy reliance on artificial lighting, inadequate noise control and deficient indoor air quality causing redness in eyes, headache and sore throat) has now motivated an increasing number of designers, developers and building users to pursue more environmentally sustainable design and construction strategies.

As part of wide-spread movement for the sustainable development and realization for the significant impact of building design and construction on the overall environment AIOU initiated the continuing education programme for the built environment professionals in 2003. After running this programme for last eleven years as M.Sc. and MS, now department has planned to accommodate the wider community and broader interest in theory and research at three levels M.Sc., MS and PhD.

Many professionals other than the approved eligibility criteria approached the department for admissions in MS programme for which they do not fulfill the criteria. Therefore, department has planned to offer Masters Degree with course work for this clientele in the form of MSc Sustainable Environmental Design.

1. Understand the application of ecological principles in the design of sustainable cities.
2. Understand sustainable urban technologies and design strategies.
3. Comprehend issues of equity and social justice as they relate to sustainable cities and regions.
4. Evaluate and monitor the present state and future potential of built environments in terms of sustainability.

Note: Pakistan Engineering Council has endorsed the MSc /MS degree of Environmental Design as value added professional qualification for Engineers which may be considered for CPD credit points for PEC registered engineers.

Salient features:

Development of MSc/MS Environmental Design program is facilitated by British Council under the DFID Higher Education Link Scheme. Experts from a foreign university (Roland Ashcroft, Prof. Jeanette Paul, University of Dundee) and local Engineering Universities/Colleges (UET, Lahore, NED University, UET Taxila, MUET, Jamshoro, NCA, Lahore) have participated in curriculum designing. The programme is designed to address local environment issues for better design and construction practices.
